IMPORTANT VERDICT

Mr. O. A. Smith's Relatives are Given $11,200 of Life Insurance.

IT WAS A SUPPOSED SUICIDE, TOO.

Morton Hunter's Pleading for the Liquor Dealers Unsuccessful.

SUIT OVER WATER COMPANY STOCKS

After being out for 24 hours the jury in the suit of the executor of O. A. Smith, of New Castle, against the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company to recover the amount of a policy, came in late yesterday afternoon with a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $11,200.

This suit has been one of great importance and tedious litigation. The question arises to life insurance companies. It was shown why not insure with a company whose poli-This suit has been one of great importance that Smith's death was caused by a dose of Iaudanum, and it was claimed that he committed suicide because of trouble in a love affair. The plaintiff's attorney claimed that the laudanum was taken while the man was twenty and the laudanum was taken while the man was twenty and the laudanum was taken while the man was twenty and the laudanum was taken while the man was twenty and the laudanum was taken while the man was twenty and the laudanum was taken while the man was twenty and the laudanum was taken while the man was twenty and the laudanum was taken while the man was twenty and the laudanum, and it was claimed that he company whose policies need no legal measures of this sort.

The first company to erase the suicide clause from its policies was the New York Life Insurance Company. This occurred in 1861, and to-day, nearly 30 years afterward, the New York Life Insurance Company to every laudanum, and it was claimed that he committed suicide because of trouble in a love clause from its policies was the New York Life Insurance Company to every laudanum, and it was claimed that he committed suicide because of trouble in a love clause from its policies was the New York Life Insurance Company to every laudanum, and it was claimed that he committed suicide because of trouble in a love clause from its policies was the New York Life Insurance Company to every laudanum, and it was claimed that he committed suicide because of the suicide so every laudanum was taken while the man was the new York Life Insurance Company to every laudanum was taken while the man was the new York Life Insurance Company to every laudanum was taken while the man was the new York Life Insurance Company to every laudanum was taken while the man was the new York Life Insurance Company to every laudanum was taken while the man was the new York Life Insurance Company to every laudanum was taken while the man was taken while the man was the new York Life Insurance Company to every laudanum was taken while the was the new York Life Insurance while temporarily insane. The weight of evidence stands almost alone in regarding suicide as seemed to bear out the suicidal theory, and this makes the verdict important. this makes the verdict important.

THE CASES DISMISSED.

Judge Stowe Hears Arguments in the License Question. Judge Stowe vesterday dismissed the writ of mandamus on the County Treasurer and County Clerk to compel them to issue wholesale liquor licenses under the old law to 12 different applicants. Morton Hunter, Esq., made an argument for the writ, but was interrupted by Judge Stowe, who said:

"I see nothing new in your case, Mr. Hunter.
You raise precisely the same questions as have already been adjudicated by the Supreme Court, as to the constitutionality of the Brooks law. It makes no material difference what I may think of the law, or even what I decide, the Supreme Court has the last guess. They have guessed and we must enforce the law as they have interpreted it. I must refuse your mandames, and even if I should decide otherwise it could do you no good that I can see.
You are simply asking for a license to sell goods already manufactured. I will make the record in this case in any way you may ask, so terrupted by Judge Stowe, who said:

record in this case in any way you may ask, so that you can take it to the Supreme Court, but that is all I can do."

Mr. Hunter will take the case to the Supreme PLUCKY WOMEN.

They Secure From Court the Right to Support Themselves. Annie C. Myers, wife of Henry F. Myers, was made a femme sole trader by the Court yester-day, her cause of complaint being that her husband has refused to support her since July,

A rule was granted on Wesley Bateman, of usetown, to show cause why his wife, Mary H. Batemah, should not be granted a right of femme sole. The plaintiff alleges that she has been compelled to support herself ever since her marriage in 1872, and of recent years her husband has given himself up to drink and dis-Sipation.

The petition of Minnie M. Calhoon to be a femme sole trader was granted in court yester-
